

Tom Finnigan JP DL

Tom Finnigan has been a justice of the peace for 20 years and normally sits in Dumbarton. He is a former chair of the Scottish Justices' Association and is a member of the Judicial Council. He is currently Convenor of the Justices' Training and Appraisal Committee for the Sheriffdom of North Strathclyde. Away from court, he runs a consultancy and training business in the food industry and is also a Deputy Lord Lieutenant for Dunbartonshire.